Allies Must Announce Definite Policy Towards the Russians

Overwhelming Success of Soviet Army Everywhere Makes This First Duty of Council

By ED. L. KEEN
(United Press Correspondent)
London, Jan. 5.—The critical Russian situation brought to a head by the recent overwhelming successes of the red army may be one of the first problems to be taken up at the meeting of allied leaders this week at Paris.

In British official circles it was agreed the time has come when the allies must announce a definite policy toward Russia.

The defeat of General Denikin and Admiral Kolchak has removed the last allied opportunity for indirect military action against the soviet government. It was agreed. The allies now, in the opinion of British observers, must either make war themselves or try to obtain peace.

Russian dispatches today strengthened earlier reports of the far reaching successes of the red armies in southern Russia. An official wireless from Moscow announced the soviet army has occupied the vast Donetz coal basin giving the reds an unlimited fuel supply. The strength of the soviet army now is two and a half million the dispatch said.

Supreme Council Reduces Demands

On Germany for Marine Material Because of Sinking of German Ships

(By United Press)
Paris, Jan. 5.—The supreme council has reduced its demand for docks and marine material demanded from Germany as a reparation for the sinking of the interned fleet at Scapa Flow from 400,000 tons to 275,000 tons, it was reported today.

This reduction was expected to insure prompt signing of the protocol and consequent effectiveness of the Versailles treaty.

The council ordered Bulgaria to turn over unused war munition to General Denikin it was reported.

King Offers Reservations

Washington, Jan. 5.—Senator King of Utah, democrat, today introduced in the senate a set of compromise reservations, to the peace treaty. King announced that if no compromise is effected by other means, he will ask the senate to take up his plan. The King reservations closely follow the Lodge program which failed in the last session.

Congress Convened Today After Holidays

Stacks of Important Bills Demand Consideration and Important Questions Must be Solved

(By United Press)
Washington, Jan. 5.—The peace treaty, anti-bolshevik legislation and appropriation bills totalling billions of dollars confronted congress as "unfinished business" when members resumed work today after the Christmas recess.

There was no specific program of business demanding action by the senators, but Senator Underwood it was believed, plans to bring up at an early date his resolution for appointment of a committee to study the Sterling edition bill.

The Sterling edition bill was on the calendar to be called up today. Attorney General Palmer wants the provision passed so he can deal with American reds who at present go free in many instances, while alien reds are deported. Many of the senators, led by Borah, believe there is a "red hysteria" in the country comparative to the German spy scare, and they plan to make speeches on Sterling's bill, and urge non-interference with free speech and other constitutional rights of the United States citizens.

The most pressing business before the House was appropriation bills beginning with the Indian appropriation bill.

Activities of Reds Directed from St. Paul and Minneapolis

St. Paul, Jan. 5.—Communist activities in the United States, Canada and many foreign countries were directed in part from St. Paul and Minneapolis, according to T. E. Campbell, special agent of the department of justice here. Among the twenty-five men arrested here five were executive officers of the communist and communist labor parties. Deportation proceedings against them were expected to begin late today or tomorrow.

Deportation Action Begun

Washington, Jan. 5.—Deportation action against scores of revolutionists rounded by the government during the last few days, was instituted by A. J. Ciminetti, commissioner of immigration. Arrangements for hearings were ordered speeded up so that deportable reds may be hustled back to Russia and make the way clear for more nation wide raids which the department of justice probably will undertake at irregular intervals.

Investigation of the bolshevik menace by the Russian affairs division of the state department, revealed that the avowed purpose of Lenin and Trotsky was to overthrow existing governments and standard societies throughout the world and substitute the soviet form of government and daily life, according to an official announcement made today by Secretary Lansing.

This bolshevik program had failed in Russia already and resulted in demoralization of the civilized world and economic collapse, the announcement stated.

The report contained conclusions that had been handed by the state department to the congressional foreign affairs committee.

Reds Trying to Collect a Million

Washington, Jan. 5.—Collection of revolutionary battle funds of nearly one million dollars was the aim of radical leaders arrested in the last round up, it was learned today, at the department of justice. A large part of the funds was in the coffers of the members broken up by the raids. Justice department officials declared they were not in a position to say what will be done with the funds.

After the Leaders

New York, Jan. 5.—The department of justice agents are close in on the trail of the arch bolsheviks, or master minds, believed to be at the head of the leading activities in the United States, according to reports at the department office here today. The name of the person was closely guarded.

Rounding up Reds Just Begun

(By United Press)

New York, Jan. 5.—The communist round up which has resulted in the arrest of more than three thousand radical workers in the United States on Friday night, has only begun according to Wm. J. Flynn, chief of the Department of Justice Bureau investigation.

"We are not any where near through with the work," Flynn, who is in charge of the nation wide round up, said. "We are just letting up now so we can tackle the job with renewed vigor."

The crowded condition at Ellis Island where 675 alleged radicals already are being held, has led to a move to obtain either Camp Upton or camp Merritt as concentration camps for reds held for possible deportation.

Washington, Jan. 5.—By a margin of one vote the supreme court today upheld the right of congress to prohibit the sale of 2.75 per cent beer or any other liquor containing one half of one per cent alcohol. The vote of the court was five to four.

After upholding the Volstead act and the right of congress to ban 2.75 per cent beer the court held that the bureau of internal revenue had no right to stop the sale and manufacture of 2.75 per cent beer before the passage of the Volstead act. This relieves possible prosecution of brewers and liquor dealers who sold 2.75 per cent beer between July 1, 1919 when war time prohibition became effective, and October 28, 1919, when the Volstead act became law, but does not allow the sale of 2.75 per cent beer made during that period.

The court held that while it could not say that liquor containing more than one half of one per cent alcohol was intoxicating, congress undoubtedly has that power. The decision on this point was unanimous.

The decision of the Volstead law is a defeat for the brewers who were attacking the constitutionality of section one of the prohibition enforcement act in the hope of gaining the right to continue manufacture of 2.75 per cent beer. Justice Brandeis read the majority opinion and Justice McReynolds read the dissenting opinion. Justices Vandeventer, Clark and Day joined McReynolds in dissenting.

An important problem, developed immediately preceding the court's decision, was announced by Attorney General McCrane, of New Jersey, that the state would not consent to a suit brought against constitutional prohibition by New Jersey liquor dealers.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Upholding the constitutionality of the most vital section of the Volstead enforcement law the supreme court today declared that 2.75 per cent beer and that other near-beers cannot be sold under the prohibition act.

The action of the government in prohibiting the sale of 2.75 beer ordered before the Volstead law, was passed on October 28, 1919, was upheld.

The decision of the court was the opinion of 5. Justice Brandeis read the opinion of the court as he did at the time war-time prohibition was declared constitutional.

The important feature of the decision is that the court upheld the action of congress in declaring what is intoxicating and preventing the sale of all beverages containing one half of one per cent or more alcohol by volume with the exception of home made cider and wine.

The decree of the court may be taken as a definition of intoxicating liquor that will stand under constitutional prohibition also because of the definite statement that congress in providing for the enforcement of prohibition can prescribe just what makes a beverage intoxicating.

The court's decision today was an appeal from New York federal court brought by Jacob Ruppert Brewery Corporation.

Supporting in every way the contention of the government and congress just as the opinion of the court did when war time prohibition was declared constitutional by a unanimous vote the decree of his tribunal apparently means a real bone dry nation.

Likewise it dispels hopes of liquor interests for tilting of the lid, either at present or under constitutional prohibition it is believed here.

The final interests involved in the decision today are estimated at billions of dollars by liquor attorneys including the amount of near beer on hand and property for its manufacture which will be rendered virtually useless. One hope of liquor interests was to convert old breweries and plants for making of the 2.75 production.

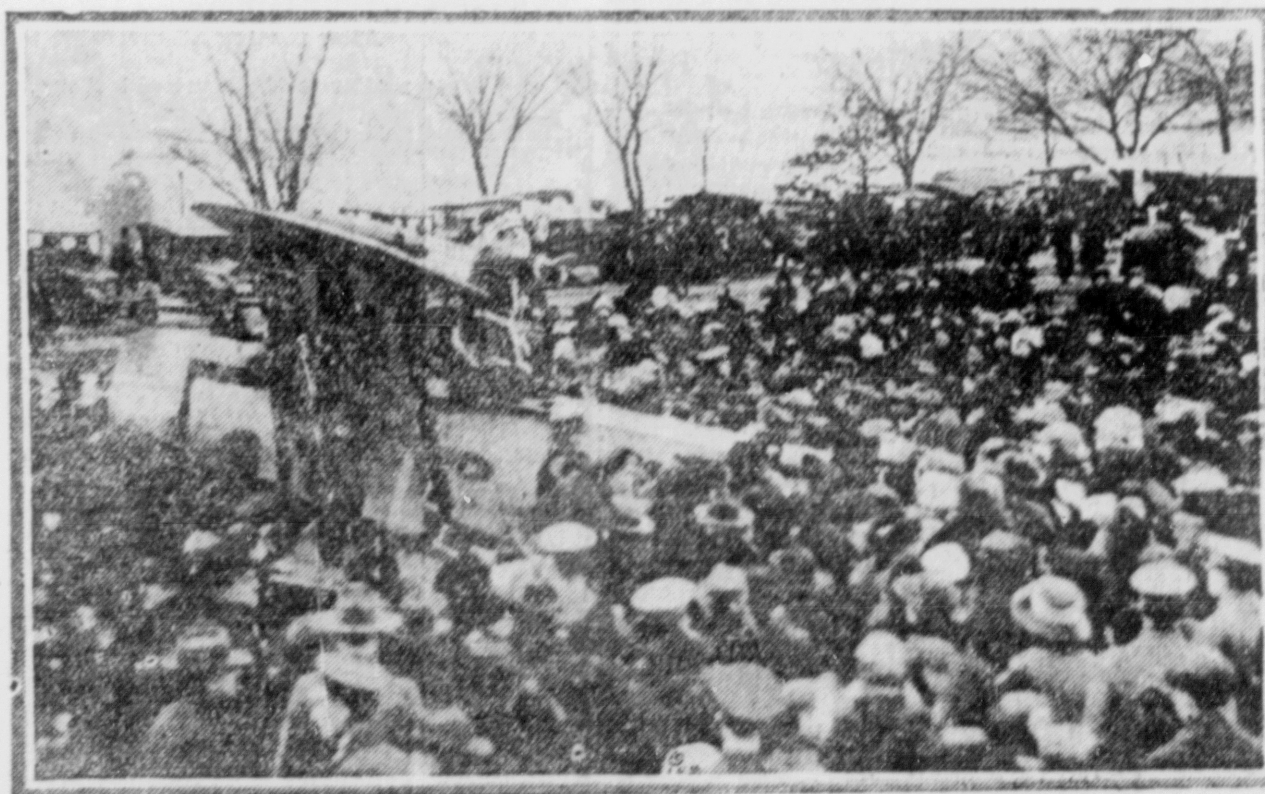

The New York federal court upheld the Volstead enforcement law in its definition of intoxicating liquor under war time prohibition in the suit brought by Ruppert. The supreme court today upheld the New York court.

WAGES AND COST OF LIVING

Effort to Be Made in New South Wales to Maintain Them on a Parity.

A fixed amount, covering the cost of living for a man and wife and the maintenance of their children, is to form the basis from which all rates of wages will be calculated in New South Wales.

A bill embodying this novel scheme for ending the "vicious circle" of increasing living costs and raised wages, has passed the legislative assembly. The scale of living costs is to be formulated by the board of trade after an inquiry. The maintenance of children of workers will be met by payments from a fund administered by the government. Employees receiving not more than $1.25 above the declared living wage will be paid the full amount ascertained to be the cost of maintaining each child.

The fund is to be established by monthly payments from employers, each employer paying in proportion to his average daily number of employees. No payments are due in respect of the children of employees on strike. The bill will apply to practically all employees in the state whose earnings do not exceed $2,000 annually.

Republican Presidential Opponents Meet Tonight

Gen. Leonard Wood and Governor Lowden Will Attend Hays Dinner in Chicago

(By United Press)

Chicago, Jan. 5.—Two of the leading candidates for republican nomination for president will face each other here tonight.

Governor Frank Lowden, of Illinois, and General Leonard Wood, will both attend the republican dinner here given in honor of the national chairman, Will Hays; national woman's party leaders and party managers from fourteen mid-western states.

The republican pow-wow was to get under way today. About 300 men and women will participate in the general conference. The chief session of the committee here was arranged to be held this afternoon. A. T. Hart of Kentucky is chairman of this committee. Considerable discussion was caused among those attending the meeting by announcement that James B. Reynolds retired as secretary of the national committee. Reynolds is steering the campaign of Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts for republican presidential nomination.

Clarence B. Miller, of Minnesota, former congressman, will take Reynolds' place it was reported today.

Fresh Outbreaks in Ireland

Three Hundred Men Attack Police Barracks—Dynamite Building

(By United Press)

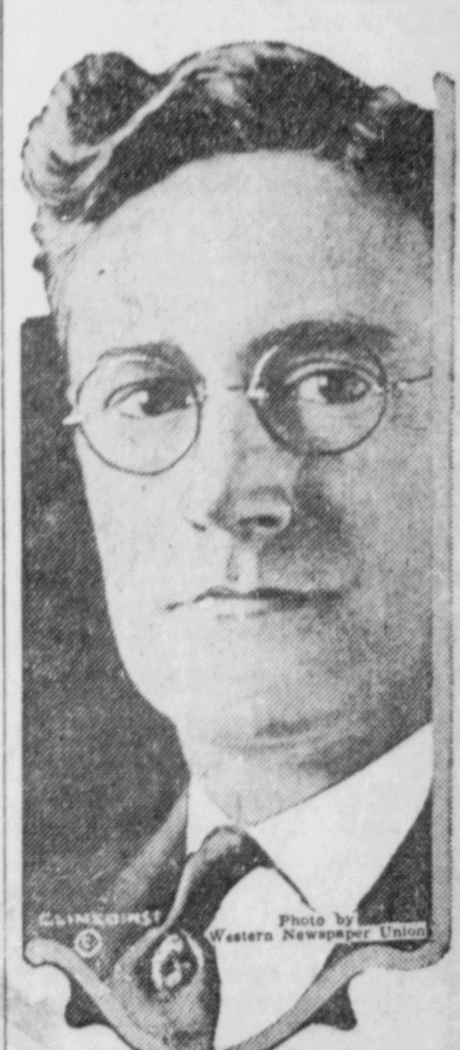

London, Jan. 5.—The serious situation in Ireland today was complicated by a fresh series of outbreaks.

Dispatches from Cork report a group of 300 men late Saturday night attacking the police barracks at Carrigrohilly and after a four hour battle with six defenders, dynamited the building. Hundreds of shots were exchanged but there were no casualties.

All telephone and telegraph wires connecting the village with other points were cut before the attack began. After confiscating arms and ammunition in the barracks the attackers, presumably Sinn Feiners, handcuffed the police together, leered them severely and then fired them. "You did your duty well," the leader of the attacking party told the police.

A building near the police barracks was also wrecked by the attackers. Families living in it escaped but their belongings were lost.

YEAR'S WORK FOR REGULAR SESSION

CONGRESS WILL TRY TO DO AS MUCH AS POSSIBLE BEFORE NATIONAL CONVENTIONS.

RAILROAD MEASURES FIRST

These Are Vastly Important to Country's Prosperity—Means of Reducing the Government's Expenses Must Be Devised.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY

Washington.—Congress will meet in regular session Monday, December 1, completely organized, this formality having been attended to in both houses at the special session. The session will be one of large importance. Much so-called reconstruction legislation made necessary by the shakeup resulting from war will have to be considered. A presidential election will be just ahead, and this will keep the politicians in the two branches of congress on the alert. In accordance with custom each of the national political nominating conventions will take occasion to express its views of the record of congress.

There is no limit to the coming regular session. This is to say that it may run until the first Monday in December next year. In former days it was always the program of the political party controlling congress to wind up business of the session of a presidential year before the meeting of the nominating conventions. It was not possible to do this in 1916, and so both senate and house took a recess while the conventions were doing their work. With a good year's work ahead of it there is small expectation among the congressional leaders that the approaching session will finish its work before the political conventions. It will be the desire of the political parties, however, to get just as much done as possible before the conventions meet. This will be particularly true of the political party that is in control of the present congress.

Railroad Legislation First.

The first duty of the new congress will be to finish up the legislation providing for the return of the railroads to their owners. This will be no small task. The fact that the house of representatives passed a return bill without much delay should not be taken to mean that it will be easy to compose the difficulties that exist with respect to just what the legislation, in its final form, shall provide. The senate, it is certain, will pass a bill radically different from the house bill and then it will be for a conference committee to harmonize the differences. While the president has expressed a desire to have the roads go back to their owners January 1, it is pretty well understood that the administration will wait a reasonable length of time on congress. In any event the roads are not to be operated by the government much longer. It is generally agreed among the best of the economists of the day that the prosperity of the country may depend to a considerable extent on the wisdom displayed by congress in handling the railroad situation.

The government's finances will inevitably occupy a great deal of time in the new session. Many angles to this subject will have to receive attention. Public men almost without exception agreed that government expenditures are far beyond what they should be. It was always difficult, it was pointed out, for a nation to get its expenditures back to anything near normal immediately following a great war. Every country in Europe, and particularly Great Britain, is wrestling with this same problem, but there is popular demand that congress shall do something toward reducing the cost of government. People who bore the burden of war taxes patiently while the country was at war are beginning to ask when the war taxes are to be reduced. Congress must answer this question.

Tariff Must Be Considered. Taxes cannot be reduced until the cost of government is cut down, and so the men in congress who are dealing with the government's finances realize that the first phase of the problem with which they must deal relates to the cost of administering the government. The tariff will come in for consideration in connection with the cost of government and how to meet that cost. It was decided some months ago that the tariff would not be considered at the special session now closing, but it is agreed all around that there must be a decision shortly as to whether there shall be any general revision of tariff during the regular session. In both houses there are men who advocate a new tariff so framed as to bring in more money and thus make it possible to cut down some of the direct government taxes. This whole problem of government finances will have to be worked out by the ways and means committee of the house of representatives, the finance committee of the senate, and the appropriations committees of the two branches. A related subject is that dealing with the proposed budget plan. The house has passed a bill providing for a budget, but the senate thus far, has not indicated what it will do on the subject.

It will not be necessary to hurry with the appropriation bills at this regular session because they do not have to be out of the way until July.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Battle Between Tooth Pastes

Who Will Settle the Argument. Let Your Druggist be the Referee

It must be perplexing to the reader to decide which of the claims are logical and which are unsupported when he reads the glowing advertisements of the various manufacturers of Tooth Paste.

One maker's product lays stress on the flavor. Another claims to "remove the film." Still another leaves a "clean feeling." Another calls attention to the teeth of wild animals and is reputed to be highly antiseptic.

After reading all carefully, the intelligent person decides to refer the matter to the court of last resort for the true answer. The Druggist is the one whom the physicians and dentists rely upon to furnish expert advice on the action of chemicals. Why, therefore, is he not the persons for you to trust? Long years of patient training and a knowledge of the relative value of the various ingredients in all chemical products have fitted him to express an opinion. He knows because he is qualified to know.

Something over 28,000 druggists and physicians in this country belong to national association known as the American Druggists' Syndicate. The national formula committee of this great association met annually in conference for 10 consecutive years in order to select the best formula for household remedies to be manufactured in their own great laboratories maintained at Long Island City.

One of their well known preparations is A. D. S. Peredix Tooth Paste which has been endorsed by leading dentists in every state of the nation. Your druggist will tell you that it enjoys a fast repeating sale and its claim as a perfect product is briefly stated when he tells you that "besides doing all that any other tooth paste can do, Peredix whitens like peroxide."

Large production of this remarkable preparation enables you to still purchase the large tube at the old price—25 cents. Try a tube today and be convinced.

Harry Lauder has been a favorite with northwest theatre goers. According to box office reports letters from all parts of the northwest making reservations have been received.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c.

MEETING OF FANS TO BE TONIGHT

All interested in baseball will meet this evening at 8 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce in the room assigned them at which time last year's championship affairs will be discussed and plans laid for the season of 1920.

All officers of the club are expected to be present with players and fans. Brainerd in 1919 won the pennant of the Central Minnesota Baseball League, the Brainerd-Intanton series and drew second honors in the clash with Stillwater for the state semi-pro championship.

The Brainerd team gave the city of Brainerd, as a whole, valuable advertising. It did not advertise any one single individual of the team or of the city of Brainerd, but advertised the town as a whole and placed Brainerd more firmly than ever on the sport map of the world.

For two solid weeks before the Brainerd-Stillwater world's series St. Paul papers were flooded with Brainerd accounts of the local team. Publicity was gained in Minnesota, Wisconsin and other states.

ROMEO

By LOUISE M. ADDELSON.

(©, 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Romeo was his name, and like the more famous Romeo of old he could make loving and impassioned speeches when he wished. But he didn't always wish. When things went smoothly Romeo was merry, bright and conversational. But if anything happened to ruffle his feathers he could be as temperamental as any grand opera star, becoming by turns, silent, morose and irritable. Nevertheless, he had his favorites, to whom his words were loving, and his accents sweet, though the uninitiated might have found his voice a trifle harsh. For Romeo was a parrot, whose dearest and most devoted friend was aged Mrs. Scott, his owner for 20 years, and whose bitterest enemy was her grandniece, Hester, aged seventeen.

Hester had no respect, it seemed, either for Romeo's years or his wisdom. She was in the habit of slyly poking him in the ribs, or teasing him, when she wanted a little amusement for herself or her friends, or offering him gifts in a honey-sweet voice when he was fast asleep, and of withdrawing them when he was sufficiently aroused to accept the goodies she tempted him with. Romeo bore the laughter that followed valiantly. But he acquired an implacable hatred for Hester. He did not sputter or make a fuss, as a parrot should have done. He waited, and bided his time. He was old and wise, and reasoned that some day the many blows to his comfort and dignity would be avenged.

Hester, meanwhile, faced the world merrily, little dreaming that the future might bring undesired complications into her life. True, she had fallen off in her studies, but studies were a bore, anyhow, and she wasn't going to allow a trifle like that to bother her. For weeks Edgar Trafton had escorted her home from school, to the mortification of several of the most attractive young ladies in attendance there. He had become, in fact, Hester's abject slave. At a very early date Edgar began to regard himself as one of the family. The two would come in of an afternoon, devour Mrs. Scott's choicest pastry, and when they had eaten their fill, start the phonograph, or perhaps Hester would play on the piano and sing, while Edgar accompanied her on the violin. Between the two of them they managed to make so much racket that poor Romeo's tortured squawk went all unnoticed, and one afternoon Mrs. Scott felt called upon, out of sheer desperation, to order Edgar from the house, with strict injunctions never to enter it again without permission from her. A note from the principal of the school, received that day, had aided Mrs. Scott in her determination to expel Master Trafton from her home, for it had stated, in unmistakable language, that Hester would not graduate unless she paid more attention to her studies.

Seeing that young love was likely to suffer unnecessary tribulations if Edgar continued to call in the afternoon, the lovers met evenings, thereafter, in the parlor, where Hester was fondly supposed to be studying her lessons.

Mrs. Scott usually retired early, so the coast was clear. Out of the corner of his eye Romeo, thought to be asleep, watched them evening after evening. Romeo didn't know, perhaps, that it was only a few days before examinations, but he did know that something out of the ordinary was coming off. He sensed it on a certain day when Edgar entered the house a little more quietly than usual, and Hester met him at the door with a restrained and eager expression. Edgar regarded her with what was meant to be a look of undying love and determination on his usually sheepish face.

"Your aunt shall not separate us," Romeo heard him say. "We love each other, and true love never will be thwarted."

"No," agreed Hester, with a look of high resolve. "True love will find a way. True love is not afraid."

"It is not," said Edgar, in a very exalted voice. "True love is not afraid I have made all the arrangements. We will slip away on the twelve-fifteen. The minister at Rosedale will marry us. I have the ring all ready."

And then came the supreme moment of Romeo's life, the sacred hour of his revenge. They had not considered him at all, of course, and his beloved mistress had gone to bed early with a headache, but Romeo was prepared to show them a thing or two—and make true love find another way.

The lovers, intent on the arrangements, when, suddenly a loud, laughing, raucous voice broke upon their ears. "Hester! Hester! Shame on you! Tell that foolish boy to go home. Send him home. I tell you, you silly! Love will find a way! On the twelve-fifteen! The minister at Rosedale. Love— Send him home, Hester! Send him home! Love will find a way! On the twelve-fifteen! Ha! Ha!"

Amazed, horrified, the lovers rose. Romeo still kept up his shrill, croaking laugh. There was a sound from the room overhead. Edgar rushed for his hat and coat, made for the door, and was gone. Romeo, in a voice that could be heard a quarter of a mile away, was still talking as Mrs. Scott came in.

"The minister at Rosedale! The twelve-fifteen, mother, the twelve-fifteen! I have the ring. Love will find a way! On the twelve-fifteen! Ha! Ha!"

OFFICIAL FIGURES FOR WORLD WAR

REVISED COMBATANT STATISTICS
PROVE CONFLICT BLOODIEST IN ALL HISTORY.

U. S. BATTLE LOSS 50,280

All But Two Americans Accounted For —Our Expenditures Totaled $32,427,000,000, With Loans to Our Allies Amounting to $9,102,000,000.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—The war department will shortly make public in an official way the revised statistics of the world war. These statistics in the revised form show that 50,280 American soldiers were killed in battle and 205,690 wounded, while 23,692 members of the expeditionary forces died of disease, 5,326 of accident and other causes and 4,480 were captured by the enemy. The number reported as missing in action, that is to say, still unaccounted for, still stands at two. In addition to these casualty statistics, the war department reports that 100 Americans were killed in European Russia and 25 in Siberia; that 35 Americans died of wounds in European Russia and 10 in Siberia; that 87 died of disease in European Russia and 41 in Siberia, and that 305 were wounded in European Russia and 20 in Siberia.

Of every 100 American soldiers and sailors who took part in the war with Germany, two were killed or died of disease during the period of hostilities. In the Northern army, during the Civil war, 10 in every 100 were killed or died of disease. Among the other great nations in the world war, between 20 and 25 in each 100 killed to the colors were killed or died.

Bloodiest in History.

The official statistics which the department will presently put out shows that the world war was undoubtedly the bloodiest which has ever been fought. One possible competitor might be the Crimean war, in which the casualty rate per 100 men was equally heavy. The British forces in the Crimean war lost 22 of every 100 men; the French 21; the Turks 27 and the Russians 43. More than four-fifths of the losses in that war were, however, deaths from disease, while in the recent war with Germany disease deaths were inconsiderable as compared with battle deaths.

The department is now able to supply information as to the exact number and per cent of total soldiers furnished by each state in the recent war. The figures for the various states are as follows: New York, 37,894—per cent, 7.97; Pennsylvania, 297,391—per cent, 7.03; Illinois, 251,074—per cent, 6.68; Ohio, 200,293—per cent, 5.33; Texas, 161,065—per cent, 4.29; Michigan, 135,485—per cent, 3.61; Massachusetts, 132,619—per cent, 3.53; Missouri, 128,544—per cent, 3.42; California, 112,514—per cent, 2.98; Indiana, 106,581—per cent, 2.83; New Jersey, 105,307—per cent, 2.80; Minnesota, 99,116—per cent, 2.64; Iowa, 98,784—per cent, 2.63; Wisconsin, 98,211—per cent, 2.61; Georgia, 85,506—per cent, 2.28; Oklahoma, 80,169—per cent, 2.13; Tennessee, 75,825—per cent, 2.02; Kentucky, 75,043—per cent, 2.00; Alabama, 74,678—per cent, 1.99; Virginia, 73,902—per cent, 1.94; North Carolina, 73,003—per cent, 1.91; Louisiana, 65,988—per cent, 1.76; Kansas, 63,428—per cent, 1.69; Arkansas, 61,027—per cent, 1.62; West Virginia, 55,777—per cent, 1.48; Mississippi, 54,295—per cent, 1.44; South Carolina, 53,481—per cent, 1.42; Connecticut, 50,969—per cent, 1.33; Nebraska, 47,805—per cent, 1.27; Maryland, 47,054—per cent, 1.25; Washington, 45,154—per cent, 1.20; Montana, 36,293—per cent, .97; Colorado, 34,393—per cent, .92; Florida, 33,331—per cent, .89; Oregon, 30,116—per cent, .80; South Dakota, 29,086—per cent, .79; North Dakota, 25,803—per cent, .69; Maine, 24,252—per cent, .65; Idaho, 19,016—per cent, .51; Utah, 17,361—per cent, .46; Rhode Island, 16,801—per cent, .45; Porto Rico, 16,538—per cent, .44; District of Columbia, 15,599—per cent, .42; New Hampshire, 14,374—per cent, .38; New Mexico, 12,439—per cent, .33; Wyoming, 11,353—per cent, .30; Arizona, 10,462—per cent, .28; Vermont, 9,338—per cent, .25.

American Forces Overseas.

Between May, 1917, and November 21, 1918, 2,096,722 American troops, including 30,821 marines were sent overseas. In addition, 9,627 nurses were transported, a grand total exclusive of civilian missions and persons engaged in welfare and special work of 2,096,729. Of this number 1,047,374 were carried under the British flag, 886,699 under the American flag, 61,098 under the Italian flag, 48,691 under the French flag, and 42,277 under the flag of neutral nations. So the achievement of getting so many soldiers across the Atlantic in such a short time was no less to the credit of the allies than to the navy and the merchant marine of the United States.

The expenditures of the United States for the war period amounted to $32,427,000,000, and of this amount $9,384,000,000, or about 29 per cent, was net out of tax receipts and other revenues than borrowed money, although payment of nearly half of the income and profit taxes for the fiscal year 1919 has not yet been made, such payment being deferred until the fiscal year 1920. In this calculation no deduction is made of expenditures for loans to the allies.

Look and Feel Clean, Sweet and Fresh Every Day

Drink a glass of real hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, biliousness, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

NEW TREATMENTS THAT KNOCKS RHEUMATISM

75c Box Free to Any Sufferer

Up in Syracuse, N. Y., a treatment for rheumatism has been found that hundreds of users say is a wonder, reporting cases that seem little short of miraculous. Just a few treatments even in the very worst cases seem to accomplish wonders even after other remedies have failed entirely. It seems to neutralize the uric acid and lime salt deposits in the blood, driving all the poisonous clogging waste from the system. Soreness, pain, stiffness, swelling just seem to melt away and vanish.

The treatment first introduced by Mr. Delano is so good that its owner wants everybody that suffers from rheumatism or who has a friend so afflicted, to get a free 75c package from him to prove just what it will do in every case before a penny is spent. Mr. Delano says: "To prove that the Delano treatment will positively overcome rheumatism, no matter how severe, stubborn or long standing the case, and even after all other treatments have failed, I will, if you have never previously used the treatment, send you a full size 75c package free if you will just cut out this notice and send it with your name and address with 10c to help pay postage and distribution expenses to me personally."

BREAKFAST WAS LATE

The "object lesson" staged by Sheriff Peters of Cook county, Illinois, when he had 200 prisoners witness the hanging of Raffalo Durrage, failed in a measure.

The hanging delayed the breakfast of the 200 prisoners who clamored for their meal while the priests chanted and accompanied the condemned man to the scaffold.

A legal hanging with such motley noise accompanying it loses all the things tending to make it a solemn occasion when a soul joins its Maker. In fact, it simply becomes a spectacle like the Romans making sacrifices of prisoners.

Any "moral effect" which the sheriff sought to obtain despite requests of Governor Lowden to make the hanging private, was almost entirely obliterated by the 200 prisoners shouting for food and hammering on their cell doors.

Sheriff Peters in a statement said "the modern coddling of criminals by well-meaning, but misguided, sympathetic theoretical reformers and self-constituted organizations is one of the greatest causes for the present crime wave in Chicago."

"The reformers are constantly advocating the adoption and enactment of laws which are for the purpose of alleviating the punishment of the criminal, forgetting and losing entire sight of the protection that the law-abiding and peaceable citizen is entitled to as against these human parasites."

"If one-half of the energy now spent in sympathy on murderers and criminals would be devoted to the families of the victims and the other to bringing to justice the brutes who have blotted out the lives of law-abiding and peaceful citizens and darkened forever the lives of others, this would be a happier and safer world to live in."

NEED OF TELEPHONE DIRECTORY

There is imperative need of a new telephone directory in Brainerd.

The city is doing business with one dated May 1919. In the past half year or more there have been many changes in subscribers, in addresses, etc. Some telephones have been taken out. Others have received new numbers. For instance, No. 1189-M has been changed to an entirely different series, 589x5.

A new directory should be issued and printed, as a matter of home boosting, on Brainerd presses.

Brainerd people make possible a Brainerd telephone system and a share of the money so gained should be spent on home printing and not on having a directory printed in the Twin Cities.

TEACHERS UP IN ARMS

The issue of adequate wages for country teachers has come to a head in Cass county.

Teachers of the Pillager Consolidated School District, refused their request for a $15 raise in wages per month are planning to hand in their resignations simultaneously to the school board of District No. 1, Cass county in which the Pillager schools are located, says the Duluth News Tribune.

A claim made by the school is that taxes were levied on the old schedule and no change can be made at present.

Board members say certificates now held by the teachers will be invalid if they resign.

"Teachers are not worrying over that," said one of their number. "If the certificates are not of enough value to afford a living wage, we are anxious to get rid of such scraps of paper."

COUGHS AND COLDS

This is the season of the year when coughs and colds are prevalent. Many are due to neglecting the common rules of health. If neglected they lay the foundation for more serious diseases.

The School and City Nurse can do much good by inculcating the idea that these ailments are no minor troubles.

Annual Meeting of Northern Division, Mississippi River Highway, in St. Paul Jan. 9

The annual meeting of the Northern Division, Mississippi River Scenic Highway, will be held in the St. Paul Athletic club rooms on Friday, Jan. 9th at 10:30 A. M.

GETS PRAISE FOR PRODUCTS RAISED

A. M. Peterson, Brainerd Farmer, Complimented by Commissioner of Immigration

FOR HIS CORN AND POTATOES

Exhibited at International Live Stock Show in Chicago. Many Viewing the Same

A. M. Peterson, a progressive farmer near Brainerd, has received the following commendatory letter from the State Commissioner of Immigration regarding the corn and potatoes he furnished for an exhibit and which centered much attention on Crow Wing county, many Illinois people not being aware they could be raised here. The letter states:

St. Paul, Dec. 26, 1919.

Mr. A. M. Peterson,

Brainerd, Minnesota.

My Dear Mr. Peterson:

I have neglected until today writing you this letter in which I wish to express to you my appreciation for the splendid exhibit of potatoes and corn you furnished this department to be used at the International Live Stock show in Chicago.

I want to say, Mr. Peterson, that you are to be congratulated upon producing some of the finest samples of both corn and potatoes that I have ever had the privilege of displaying. Your potatoes at the Chicago show attracted an unusual amount of attention and when we explained to the visitors that they were grown in, at one time cut-over lands, of northern Minnesota, lands which in their virgin state sold at from $20 to $25 per acre, the people could hardly believe us.

The favorable impression created by the white and yellow dent corn that you sent us was also remarkable. We used the white and yellow dent corn with the husks on largely for decorative purposes, hanging it in bunches of five at various spaces on the booth wall and when I explained to the visitors that this white and yellow dent corn of yours was grown in Crow Wing county, which is geographically in the center of the state, they were very much surprised as it is the prevailing opinion among the Illinois people that only the southern tier of Minnesota counties can grow corn successfully.

I might state that we have placed the potatoes we got from you in cold storage together with the corn and they will form a very prominent part of the Minnesota exhibit at the Mississippi Valley Exposition to be held at St. Louis in March.

Once more congratulating you upon your splendid products, I am,

Very truly yours,

FRED D. SHERMAN,

Commissioner of Immigration.

Cheer Up and Gear Up.

It takes cheers and gears to make this old world go. The average man has so many things that hold him back that he is in danger of giving up. But the great men of the age are the product of trial. They come through the furnace tried and fitted for life's obstacles because they have dared face the up-grades with a smile. Emerson says, "Nature, when she adds difficulties, adds brains." That may not seem to be true while we are under trial, but the saying holds in the long run. And, besides brains, you must have a reasonable measure of good cheer. It's so easy to go down because there is nothing in the mind to add resistance to the constant thud of adversity. You must cheer up as well as gear up if you are going to win.

To Win Success.

The talent of success is nothing more than doing what you can well, and doing well whatever you do without a thought of fame.—Longfellow.

"MUTT & JEFF'S DREAM"

At New Park Theatre on Monday Night, January 5—Play in Three Acts

"Mutt and Jeff's Dream" this triumph of modern construction and ingenuity will be the attraction at the New Park theatre tonight. The play is in three acts with a plot permitting of innumerable surprises, features, novelties and irresistible hilarity, plausible action and the introduction of especially written songs and singing, dancing ensembles, and other bits calculated to place the author Bud Fisher, in a state of infectious calculation from start to finish. A splendid cast has been provided by Manager Hill, and an array of youthful girls has been selected for the chorus. There are twenty of the latest song hits, vaudeville bits and side-splitting situations. All to make an evening's entertainment one of merit.

At the Best Today

After the war comes peace.
 After the storm comes sunshine.
 After the winter comes spring.
 After 200 miles of sin in film, comes "Kathleen Mavourneen."

Theda Bara, who has vampired her way through two hundred miles of motion pictures, has suffered a change of heart and will be seen at the Best theatre today as the heroine of the sweetest Irish love story ever told. This is "Kathleen Mavourneen," a big William Fox special written and directed by Charles J. Brabin, who was inspired by the old poem of the same name by Mrs. Julia Crawford, the Irish poetess.

Miss Bara's new role is one of sweet simplicity. It is said to be the most effective thing she has ever done—and her past performances include a long list of courtesans such as "Cleopatra," "DuBarry," "Carmen," "Camille," "The Darling of Paris," "The She-Devil" and "Salome."

SUFFRAGISTS OPEN BIG FINAL DRIVE

WANT AMENDMENT RATIFIED IN TIME FOR WOMAN TO VOTE IN THE PRIMARIES.

FEBRUARY 15 IS THE DATE SET

On That Day the Susan B. Anthony Centenary Will Be Celebrated—Special Sessions Promised by Governors of Fifteen States.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—A final "drive" for the woman suffrage amendment to the Constitution of the United States has been started. The purpose of the drive is to stir up fresh interest in states that will act through special sessions of legislatures that are to be called shortly, or through regular sessions that will be held in January. Some of these conferences have already been held with good results, the women say. The conferences will be held during this month.

At no time has there been any doubt in the minds of the women who are managing the campaign that the amendment would eventually be ratified by three-fourths of the states, but recently there has been some question as to whether thirty-six states would ratify it in time to give the women a chance in the presidential primaries of 1920. Twenty-one of the states have in one form or another made provision for choosing candidates for presidential nomination through the method of direct voting. The first of these presidential primaries will be held March in New Hampshire. From that date on they will come in rapid succession until the voters of the twenty-one states have expressed their preference.

In good many of these twenty-one states the women have the right to vote through state enactment. In those states where they do not have this right they are exceedingly anxious to obtain it in time to participate in the primaries. The argument they are making goes to the point that if they are to have the vote next November, when the presidential election will be held, they should have a voice in the choosing of candidates.

Want a Double Celebration.

The drive on, with the series of western conferences behind it, has in view the definite object of obtaining ratification of the amendment by the necessary three-fourth of the states by February 15, next year. On that date the centenary of Susan B. Anthony, the mother of the suffrage movement, will be celebrated. The suffrage leaders say that nothing could be more fitting than to combine with the celebration in memory of Susan B. Anthony a celebration expressing gratitude for the ratification of the constitutional amendment. The speakers that are going into the territory that needs attention are dwelling on the appropriateness of finishing the constitutional amendment on or before the date of the Anthony centenary.

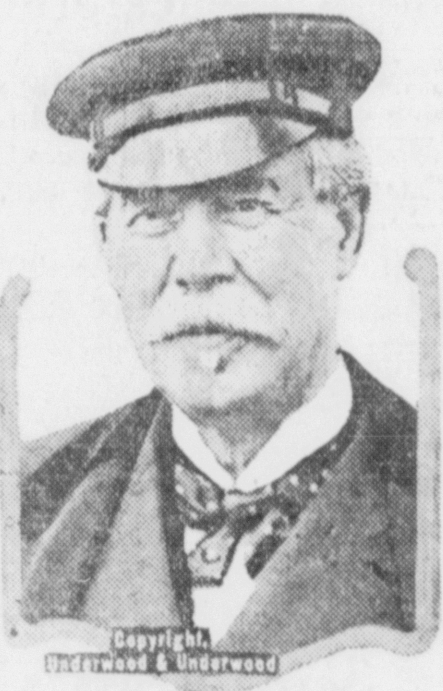

While the women who bear the brunt of the suffrage campaign are not at all disposed to criticize any state governor, it is understood that they feel that some of these governors are not quite as enthusiastic about special sessions of the legislature to deal with the amendment as they were last summer when the subject of special sessions was first brought to their attention. Immediately after the congress put through the amendment the suffrage organization obtained what it regarded as a promise from some fifteen governors of states that they would call special sessions of their legislatures in ample time to enable them to dispose of the amendment before the 1920 campaign came on. The women understood these promises to mean that the special sessions would be called in time to enable the women to participate in the 1920 primaries as well as in the regular November election. Some of the governors who made promises, it is asserted, have been inclined to let the matter go over until next spring. This is not satisfactory to the women. They want action in every state that is to act before February 15, the date of the Anthony affair.

Twenty States Have Ratified.

Twenty states, or two more than half of the required number to ratify the amendment, have already given it their support. The intensive campaign that has just been started is to be felt in both the far West, in the central West and in the South. Suffragists feel absolutely confident that the following states will ratify just as soon as their legislatures can get to work: Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, New Mexico, North Carolina, Vermont, West Virginia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Virginia, New Jersey and South Carolina, fourteen in all. This would bring the total affirmative votes for the amendment up to thirty-four, leaving only two additional votes to be obtained. The women say they have at least ten opportunities for these votes that will be lacking under their plan of computation.

If ratification is to be completed before February 15, special sessions of legislatures must be held in twelve states and the legislatures of four states that will meet in regular session in January must act affirmatively. According to the women they have definite pledges from more than twelve governors to call extra sessions and they propose to hold the governors strictly to their promises.

Great Men Superstitious.

Charles Dickens, Lord Macaulay and Max Muller are numbered among the great men avowedly superstitious. Dickens refused to lie down on a bed unless it was placed due north and south, and he gave ample notice of his rule before arriving at a friend's house or a hotel. It is said he carried a compass in his baggage to make sure, and the slightest error had to be corrected before he would turn in.

Birthplace of Inventions.

Erickson began the building of the screw propellers in a bathroom. The cotton gin was first manufactured in a log cabin. Parts of the first steam boat ever operated in America were set up in the vestry of a church.—Boston Post.

"Go to Halifax."

In England in the eighteenth century there was a peculiarly cruel judge who presided over the court at Halifax. One of his practices was to order the accused executed and send his case to a jury afterward. To be sent to Halifax became equivalent to conviction. Hence the expression.

Gives Permission to Use Name

Eugene Palmer, Lawrence, Mass., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar relieved me of a cough from which I suffered for weeks. You have my full permission to use my name in any advertising." Foley's Honey and Tar checks colds, cuts the phlegm soothes inflamed membranes, clears breathing passages. H. P. Dunn.

England's Strike Losses.

A profit and loss account of the strikes of the last ten years in the United Kingdom, prepared from government returns, supplemented by details furnished by trade union leaders in the principal industries, shows that the loss to the organized workers alone from stoppages of work due to disputes of all kinds has been equal to $84,741,000 in wages, not to speak of a vast sum spent in strike pay. Against this, the net gain in wages resulting from disputes is returned as $13,200,000, leaving a net loss of $71,541,000.

Ships' Officers Unionize.

To protect themselves against unions among the crews and to preserve discipline at sea, the officers, engineers, doctors, and pursers of Atlantic liners have formed an association at Liverpool, Southampton and London, which is spreading to all British ports.

Officers of ships in New York said that they had had to take this action because of the attitude of the steamship lines in yielding to demands made by the men, without regard to the views of officers or the maintenance of discipline.

English Cotton Mills Booming.

Industrial Lancashire is changing hands. Nearly 100 factories have been transferred to new owners, and cotton mill shares have changed hands at prices as high as seven times their nominal and paid-up value.

The London Daily Mail says it is estimated in Lancashire that the boom will last anywhere from two to six years, and it is attributed to the fact that the world now wants dressing again and is pouring in orders for textile goods.

Would End All Profits.

The annual conference of the London (Eng.) Labor party has adopted a resolution declaring that the only effective way to end profiteering was to end the capitalistic system of production for profit and advocating the nationalization of all means of production and the encouragement of municipal trading.

Delegates were present from the trades labor councils and many of the trades unions throughout London.

Alberta's Mining Operations.

In Alberta, Canada, during the year 1918 there were 317 coal mines, two copper ore and two shale mines in operation. Of this total 70 were newly opened, nine re-opened and 71 abandoned. The total output of coal for the year was 6,148,620 tons, exceeding by 1,285,200 tons the output for 1917. The average number of persons employed in mine work during 1918 was 8,774.

Wanted to Feel Safe.

Little Adam was staying at a neighbor's home during the illness of his mother. The neighbor lady knowing Adam's fondness for jelly had some for supper one evening. All during the meal he watched his jelly. As he was about to eat it he said: "Oh, Lord, be near me while I eat this nervous stuff."

Some Consolation.

I was giving an evening party. One of the men was unable to come, but his wife came alone. I meant to convey to her that I was glad she had come, even though her husband could not, but what I said was, "I'm glad you came without your husband, anyway."—Chicago Tribune.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All merchants, druggists, etc., sell it.

Good for the Whole Family

"Granny" Chamberlain "A good cough remedy is one that can be depended upon to cure coughs. Not one that cures some particular cough, but coughs in general. It must be a cough remedy that can be relied upon for all the different coughs that are so prevalent. While the causes of all coughs are primarily the same, yet the condition of the patient is what makes the difference in the nature of the cough itself. Coughs of healthy persons are easier to cure than the coughs of invalids. The powerful convulsive cough of a large man is harder to cure than the cough of a baby. If you get a remedy that will cure a large man's cough and yet not be too powerful for the baby, you have a good cough remedy."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is just this kind of remedy. It is good for any member of the family. It relieves coughs of all kinds. It is the product of much thought and study to produce an ideal cough remedy. It is composed of things which cure easily and soothingly without harming the most delicate tissues of the throat. It acts as easily and safely on the young as on the old, and is the ideal remedy for coughs, colds, croup, influenza, whooping cough and bronchitis."

Yours for Health.—Granny Chamberlain.

Taking the Chase Out Of Purchase

Advertising benefits the man who buys as well as the man who sells. It is part of the Golden Rule of Business and it works both ways.

Don't miss the advertisements in this newspaper. Many of them are interesting just because of their news and educational value alone.

But more than that:—Advertisements take the chase out of purchase and make every penny do its full duty.

This last statement is one particularly to be remembered when common-sense economy is not only a national duty, but an individual necessity.

DON'T MISS THE ADVERTISEMENTS.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister.

Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite—cold of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney diseases.
